

Jane Alston Maxwell

July 9, 1957 – August 4, 2025

Celebration of Life

Where Holiness Is Hard to See

Craig Rowland

As we extinguish this flame, may we carry its smoke with us—
into the streets,
into the places where holiness is hard to see but always waiting to be noticed.

Let us go
with eyes open for wonder in the worn-out,
with reverence for each passerby, and with the knowing that the sacred does not hide from the world—it lives in it.

Go now—
not to escape the brokenness,
but to journey beside it,
and sometimes, to bless it.

Service

Saturday July 11, 2026

1pm - 3pm

Carbondale Unitarian Fellowship

Prelude

Imagine, John Lennon
Elana Floyd-Kennett

Ingathering Words

Jen Salamone

Chalice Lighting

Untitled, By Mira Mickiewicz
Georgia Dennis

Opening Music

Piano Selection, Robert Schumann
Elana Floyd-Kennett

Remembrance

Katherine Maxwell

Hymn

We Laugh, We Cry #354

Open Invitation to Speakers

Sarah Berry
Sheila Cannon

Musical Interlude

Wendy Davis

Chalice Extinguishing

Where Holiness Is Hard to See

All are invited to gather afterwards to share memories and spend time with old friends.

Reception

Sunday July 12, 2026

2pm - 4pm

Jane's Home, 101 Rivercrest Dr., Cape Girardeau

